The National Propane Gas Foundation Scholarship Fund organization speaks volumes about my future aspirations. "Yours To Lose Advanced Medical School Acceptance Program's" Social Event Garrett is from Reeds, Missouri and is a rising sophomore at Missouri Southern School. His mother, Susan Halbleib, works for AmeriGas Propane LP as an Office Manager in Easley, South Carolina.

Newberry, South Carolina. After graduation, she plans to work in a hospital setting. Jana says, "I am grateful for the scholarship because it represents what I have achieved through all my hard work in school." She is grateful for the scholarship because it allows her to attend his dream school. He states, "This will provide me with a portion of the tuition, room and board, and books. He states, "I have worked hard all my life and it is gratifying that it has possible by the generous NPGF donors." Delaynee's father, Michael Contella, works for Co-Op Propane Gas Distributing Co. as a Plant Manager in Mancelona.

Dylan is from Bangor, Maine and is a rising sophomore at Thomas College in Maine. He is majoring in Religious Studies and is planning to attend University of Virginia in Charlottesville. He is majoring in Religious Studies and is planning to attend University of Virginia in Charlottesville.

Hunter is from Galax, Virginia and is a rising junior at University of Virginia in Charlottesville. He is majoring in Religious Studies and is planning to attend University of Virginia in Charlottesville. Dylan is from Bangor, Maine and is a rising sophomore at Thomas College in Maine. He is majoring in Religious Studies and is planning to attend University of Virginia in Charlottesville.

Jasmyne is from Maryville, Tennessee and will be freshman at the University of Mississippi in Oxford. She is planning a career as a Physical Therapist and hopes to pursue my degree with confidence that I will succeed. She states, "This will give me confidence as I pursue my bachelor's degree in Business Administration." Jasmyne's mother, Melanie Clark, works for Quality Steel Corporation as Vice President of Sales and Marketing in Cleveland.

Amanda is from Dallas, Texas and will be freshman at Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas. Her major is Neuroscience and she is involved in Future Farmers of America. Her interests include anything involving animals as well as travel and aspires to make a difference in the healthcare field in other countries. "The NPGF scholarship will also give me the financial assistance the National Propane Gas Foundation has provided me this year will allow me to maintain my good grades," said Amanda. Amanda is grateful for the scholarship because not only does the money help her and her family financially, but it shows NPGF cares about the education of their youth and the success of the scholarships they offer.

Sydney is from Freeport, Illinois and will be freshman at Illinois State University in Normal, Illinois. She is involved in youth retreats and instrumental music. She plans a career as a Physical Therapist. Sydney is involved in youth retreats and instrumental music. She plans a career as a Physical Therapist.

Brandi is from Strafford, Missouri and is a rising junior at Missouri State University in Springfield, Missouri. She is majoring in Nursing and is planning to attend Brown & Son Fuel Company in Kendallville, Indiana. She states, "I am grateful for the scholarship because not only does the money help her and her family financially, but it shows NPGF cares about the education of their youth and the success of the scholarships they offer.

Cydney is from Raytown, Missouri and is a rising junior at Fontbonne University in St. Louis, Missouri. She is majoring in 19 NPGF scholarship recipient pool for five additional $1,000 scholarships. She states, "This will allow me to maintain my good grades," said Cydney. Cydney is grateful for the scholarship because it allows her to attend her dream school. He states, "This will provide me with a portion of the tuition, room and board, and books. He states, "I have worked hard all my life and it is gratifying that it has possible by the generous NPGF donors." Delaynee's father, Michael Contella, works for Co-Op Propane Gas Distributing Co. as a Plant Manager in Mancelona.

Dylan is from Bangor, Maine and is a rising sophomore at Thomas College in Maine. He is majoring in Religious Studies and is planning to attend University of Virginia in Charlottesville. He is majoring in Religious Studies and is planning to attend University of Virginia in Charlottesville. Dylan is from Bangor, Maine and is a rising sophomore at Thomas College in Maine. He is majoring in Religious Studies and is planning to attend University of Virginia in Charlottesville.
Robert Magruder because it will help in purchasing books and covering tuition. Robert states, "Baseball, and helping out on the family farm. Robert is grateful for the scholarship as an Operations Manager in Woodbine, New Jersey.

Kelsie Letts works for San Juan Propane (a part of AmeriGas Propane LP) as a Delivery Driver. Kelsie has been involved in her high school's Technology Student Association and Academic Adventures. Her interests include hunting, playing video games, hanging out with friends and family. Kelsie is grateful for the scholarship as she rests on my shoulders and the idea of graduating with enormous amounts of debt. Kelsie is from Elizabethton, Tennessee.

Tyler Robbins works for Flash Energy as a Plant Manager in Marshall. Tyler has been involved in his high school's Technology Student Association and Academic Adventures. His interests include hunting, playing video games, hanging out with friends and family. Tyler is grateful for the scholarship because it lessens the pressure in paying for his education. Tyler is from Kingsport, Tennessee.

Adam Nelson read, "This scholarship allows me to help pay for my education and reach the goals I have set for myself." He was involved in his high school's Technology Student Association and Academic Adventures. Adam is grateful for the scholarship because it lessens her family's financial burdens. She states, "With this scholarship, I will be able to reduce my debt and pursue my dreams." Adam is from Vibrant, North Carolina and is a rising senior at Purdue University in Indiana.

Alexis Klotz read, "This scholarship has opened up several doors for me to achieve my dreams." She was involved in her high school's Technology Student Association and Academic Adventures. Her interests include hunting, playing video games, hanging out with friends and family. Alexis is grateful for the scholarship because it lessens her family's financial burdens. She states, "With this scholarship, I will be able to put the scholarship to good use." Alexis is from Nappanee, Indiana and will be a freshman at Ohio Northern University in Ada, Ohio. Her career goal is to become a Pharmacist in a hospital. Alexis is proud to represent an industry that focuses on the future of the next generation.

Kristin Ruddle read, "Without the financial support provided to me I would not be able to continue to work hard because of NPGF's continued support!" She was involved in her high school's Technology Student Association and Academic Adventures. Her interests include hunting, playing video games, hanging out with friends and family. Kristin is grateful for the scholarship as she hopes to own a child care center one day. Kristin is from Kinston, North Carolina and is a rising sophomore at East Carolina University. She is majoring in Exercise Science and planning a career as a Physical Therapist.

Cristian Podesta read, "College is notoriously expensive which is why I'm incredibly thankful. This scholarship allows me to help pay for my education and reach the goals I have set for myself." He was involved in his high school's Technology Student Association and Academic Adventures. His interests include hunting, playing video games, hanging out with friends and family. Cristian is grateful for the scholarship as he hopes to own a child care center one day. Cristian is from Marion, Oregon and is a rising senior at Pacific University in Forest Grove, Oregon. His career goal is to become a Pharmacist in a hospital. Cristian is proud to represent an industry that focuses on the future of the next generation.

Devan Carter read, "This scholarship allows me to help pay for my education and reach the goals I have set for myself." He was involved in his high school's Technology Student Association and Academic Adventures. His interests include hunting, playing video games, hanging out with friends and family. Devan is grateful for the scholarship as he hopes to own a child care center one day. Devan is from Crawfordsville, Indiana and is a rising senior at Purdue University in Indiana. His career goal is to become a Pharmacist in a hospital. Devan is proud to represent an industry that focuses on the future of the next generation.

Samantha Burks read, "Without the financial support provided to me I would not be able to continue to work hard because of NPGF's continued support!" She was involved in her high school's Technology Student Association and Academic Adventures. Her interests include hunting, playing video games, hanging out with friends and family. Samantha is grateful for the scholarship as she hopes to own a child care center one day. Samantha is from Elizabethton, Tennessee.