The Energy to Deliver the Power of More

As head of our Energy Business Practice Group, Marty Kirshner's depth of experience in the energy industry gives him the power to do more for clients.

Marty serves fuel oil and propane clients as a strategic advisor and consultant on all aspects of financial and business operations, including transactional consulting, benchmarking, cost allocations, strengthening internal controls, and identifying opportunities for increased profitability, and attaining long-term goals.

Marty is frequently called upon to share his knowledge as guest speaker and seminar leader at various professional association conferences. He is a regular contributor to prominent energy industry publications, including Oil & Energy and LP Gas magazines. He serves as Treasurer of the National Fuel and Energy Institute (NEFI).

Marty is an important member of our Audit & Assurance team, including our Employee Benefit Plan Audit Practice Group, providing exceptional accounting, audit and business advisory services for clients in various industries.

A graduate of the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, Marty earned his Master's degree in Accounting at Northeastern University. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) and the Massachusetts Society of CPAs.
